Transfer Exam on Introduction to Western Literature

Instruction: Answer any FOUR of the following questions in English. (25% each)

1. Rewrite Ovid's Pygmalion myth from Galatea's point of view. (Galatea is the name given to Pygmalion's beloved statue of ivory in later versions of the tale.)
2. Become Narcissus. Keep a diary or journal describing your problem of identity.
3. Become Medea and write a letter to Jason explaining your murder of the children.
4. Take the part of Hades. Write a letter to Demeter explaining why you want Persephone to be your wife. What would you like her to do for you and your kingdom?
5. Consider the myth of Daedalus and Icarus. Had Daedalus foreseen the possibility of failure, would he have made a different decision?
6. If you were a correspondent covering the Trojan War, what mortal hero/heroine would you like to interview most? Write a news report about that hero/heroine.
